Once more our slogan will have to be "next year."

Before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a football game in the District of Columbia, on one of the most perfect football days that ever happened, the Buff and Blue was trailed in the dust on Thanksgiving day according to its annual custom, while the Blue and Gray of Georgetown flouted triumphant in the breeze. No criticism of methods, means or playing will be attempted here. We lost, were beaten, that is sufficient. The strongest team that ever issued forth from the portals of George Washington University played on Georgetown field Thanksgiving day, and went down to defeat before the indomitable spirit and aggressiveness of our rivals across the creek. They knew no more football than we, they were slightly outweighed, their coaching was certainly not superior to ours, and yet they won. To say that the result was a disappointment to the student body and followers of the team is putting it mildly. A thing which we have for years been struggling for, a goal toward which all our efforts have been turned, seemed to have been attained at last, but in the crucial test the cup was snatched from our lips and dashed in pieces upon the ground. An opportunity such as has seldom been our good fortune to come upon was offered us, and we failed to take it. Once more we are forced back to the old stand by "next year," which we had hoped to relinquish forever on Thursday last. Says the Washington Post: "The battle told the tale of an eleven beaten just as soon as its trick plays were knocked into a cocked hat by its younger rivals. Crowell's men played the game until the punishment inflicted by the rival eleven weakened their efforts. Once the fighting edge of the dntowners was dulled, there was no alma mater spirit to bring it back, and there is where the HATCHET crew fell down." And as much as we hate to acknowledge it, this is true. Our motto until we finally beat

Georgetown will have to be "let bygones be bygones."

The Game in Detail.

Hodgson opened the contest by kicking to Sutton who returned it five days. On the first play which had been settled upon before going on the field, Sutton made four yards through left tackle. This ended the gaining, however, and Steenerson punted to Kerr, who returned 20 yards. Georgetown failed to gain the necessary yards and Hodgson lifted to Sutton, who was downed in his tracks. Thanks to a penalty and a couple of small gains by Beard and Lacarioni, a first down was obtained, but again the Blue and Gray held and Steenerson again kicked to Kerr, who by the way, received all but one or two of "Steenie's" efforts. An exchange of punts followed and Georgetown finally obtained possession but were penalized fifteen yards for holding, the oval then resting on their ten yard line. Two tries netted no gain, but instead of kicking O'Boyle was given the ball in a fake formation and ran twenty-five yards for a first down amid great applause. We soon held again and the punting duel recommenced. Finally the Blue and Gray march toward our line started, and was not checked until the fifteen yard line had been reached. Steenerson punted out of danger as it seemed. Bocock heeled the ball after signalling for a free catch, and Hodgson proceeded to kick one of the prettiest goals from placement ever seen on a local gridiron. The oval had rested on the forty-five yard line. No more scoring took place during this half. Score, Georgetown 4, G. W., 0.

Sutton kicked to Georgetown at the beginning of the second half, and on the first formation, Kerr caught our team napping, and finding a hole between right tackle and end, ran sixty yards for a touchdown, Sutton, who was playing back, missing an easy tackle. Bocock kicked goal. Score, Georgetown 10, G. W., 0.

Hodgson kicked off to us and the punting started again. We finally

A New Economic Review.

The American Economic Association, the foremost scientific organization of its kind in the United States, which includes all the prominent economists of the country, has lately decided to publish and to subsidize a quarterly review which will begin to appear in 1907. The editorial board of the review includes besides several foreign economists, members of the faculties of the following American universities: Minnesota, Northwestern, Iowa, Harvard, Wisconsin, New York, Illinois, Washington and Lee, Yale, Michigan, Princeton, Cornell, Missouri, Dartmouth, Columbia, Johns Hopkins, Chicago, California and Indiana. The chief-editorship of the review has been entrusted to Professor C. W. A. Veditz, of the George Washington University.

A Talk to the Young Women of Washington.

Miss Ellis, in a little talk she gave the girls of the college last Thursday afternoon, informed them that Mr. Fred Smith, the famous speaker, had promised to speak to the young women of Washington. The lecture is set for 4:30 on Wednesday afternoon, December 5th, at the Columbia Theater. Miss Ellis' request for twenty volunteers as ushers was quickly responded to. While the talk is primarily for the younger women of the city, any woman will be welcomed and will enjoy Mr. Smith's powerful speaking.

At a track meet at the Imperial University, of Tokio, a Japanese student named Jujii recently broke the world's record for pole vaulting, clearing the bar at 12 feet, 9 inches.

SUBSCRIBERS

Your subscriptions ($1.50) are now due. Do not wait for a bill but drop the money in one of the Hatchet boxes or mail a check to The University Hatchet. Do not put this off; attend to it at once.

Dental.

Dr. Roy Clay Brittin, of the Class of '06, who received honorable mention at the commencement exercises last spring, has opened a dental office at 1107 G Street, N. W.

Dr. J. Winslow Taylor, of the Class of '06, has an office on East Capitol Street, and from all reports is doing a very lucrative practice.

Dr. Marion E. Harrison, of the Class of '06, who received the prize for the best Infirmary record, is located in the "Newbern," at 12th Street and Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., and has so far worked up quite a reputation in his successful handling of oral surgery cases.

Perhaps in this connection, it may not be out of place to remark that every graduate of our University who went before the District Dental Examiners last spring successfully passed the ordeal, while on the other hand, those who failed to pass the examination were graduates from Georgetown, Howard and the University of Pennsylvania. We believe that the University has reason to be proud of its Dental Department.

Not only did the dental students turn out in full force on Thanksgiving Day to see the game, but they brought their young lady friends with them to help in the cheering. Those who are so fortunate as to be married brought their wives and some of the single men were accompanied with two or three ladies. What more could we do to help win the game, which wasn't won?

Dinner To-day.

Don't forget the Y. M. C. A. dinner given by the George Washington Club at the Association Hall this evening at 6.45. Tickets will be only fifty cents. Fred B. Smith, widely known as the greatest living speaker to men, will be the chief speaker of the evening; other prominent men will be present. It will be no long-faced, serious occasion, but there will be abundant opportunity for displays of real "college spirit."

Junior Medical Dance.

Pythian Temple was the scene last Friday evening of one of the most delightful college functions of the year thus far. It was the occasion of the first annual ball given by the class of '08, Medical, and was the beginning of a series of social gatherings which this class proposes to hold during the winter.

The hall was tastefully decorated, class and university colors contributing the true tone and spirit of college life to the general effect. Members of the reception and floor committees wore badges of buff, bearing the class seal in blue. As the guests arrived they were welcomed at the door by Messrs. John R. Littlefield, Frank J. Brown and George H. Hart. The dancing commenced at nine o'clock and continued into the wee sma' hours. During the intermission at midnight the company was ushered into the banquet room where an elaborate lunch was served. During the repast various members of the class were called upon for speeches, all of whom responded with enthusiasm. Flashes of wit and humor elicited storms of applause and the hall resounded with the laughter of the merry-makers. Mr. Pyne's masterly effort was received with especial hilarity. When the inner man had been satisfied, and the air had been rent by the class yell till the walls fairly tottered the dancing hall was again sought. Mr. J. T. Wolfe sang two fine solos, Miss E. S. R. Glover accompanying him on the piano. Dancing was then resumed. For those not caring to dance a number of amusements were provided which proved exceedingly popular. There was not a single dull moment for anyone during the entire evening and it is the consensus of opinion that nothing could have added to the enjoyment of the affair. The company itself was remarkable for the beauty of the ladies and the richness and delicacy of their gowns, while the male contingent was in no wise lacking in the elements of the gallant and irresistible.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Huntress Symphony Orchestra.

The unprecedented success of the fete was due to the energetic and well directed efforts of President Littlefield and the following committee: Frederick C. Weber, chairman; Harry A. Ong, Fred S. Avery, Wm. A. Bryan and Ernest D. Everett.

Below is the list of patrons:

Misses Margaret Everett, Grace Everett, Alice L. Baker, Hannah Browning, Florence I. Morrill, Rowena Y. Burwell, Ella Parke Parry, Evelyn Hurdle, Florence A. Pierce, Lily Alexander, Lulu Skippon, Carrie Cromwell, Tessie Zerega, Miss A. Littlejohn, Miss K. Kiesecker, Miss C. Buaghn, Miss E. Jones, Miss E. S. R. "T. R."

The President got up in the air,
All over this Isthmus affair,
So he hied him away,
To have something to say,
When Poultney again got bizarre.

But perchance the ditch isn't ripe,
For inspection, Then sure it's a pipe,
That instead of "deelighted,"
They all will be sighted,
To fold up their tents and skidoo.

Old Teddy is sure on the job,
And he sees by the New York mob,
Unless something is "did,"
There will be no lid,
And with a third term he can't hob
nob.

—W. T. P.

The students in the Medical Department of the University of Michigan have this year perfected the honor system. Every student pledges himself neither to give nor receive aid at any regular examination, and also to report to the proper student committee anyone seen to give or to receive aid. This committee consists of three students elected from each class, who have power to investigate such cases as are reported to them, but only to make recommendations to the faculty concerning them.

Chancellor Andrews of the University of Nebraska has issued an edict that students of the opposite sex must not room in the same building. The students resent the Chancellor's ruling.

In the four years that Captain Eckersall, of the Chicago football team has played, he has participated in a total of 40 games, always at the quarter back position. During this time, omitting the Nebraska game last Saturday, he has scored 14 touchdowns, has kicked 23 goals from the field, and 15 goals from the touchdowns, making a total of 181 points. He has the record of kicking 5 goals from the field in one game. Out of the 40 games, Chicago has won 34, tied 2 and lost 4.

Proof sheets of this year's "Blue and Gold," the annual of the University of California, have been bound and placed in the University library. It was originally thought that the entire book was destroyed by the fire, but the editor was present to get the proof sheets at the printer's only the night before the rest of the book was entirely destroyed.

The Michigan Daily says:

"Michigan students were overjoyed to hear that Dan McGugins Commodores had trounced Carlisle by the score of 4 to 0. The rejoicing is partly because of the popularity of the Commodores, but is mostly due to the fact that Ann Arborites regard the victory as a vindication of the Yost system of football and also as an indication that the weakest Michigan team in Yost's reign was also one of the best in the country before Captain Curtis was injured; for with Curtis in the game, Michigan defeated Vanderbilt 10 to 4.

"Not only has Vanderbilt regained the lost prestige of the West, but it has given Michigan an opportunity to claim the western championship. The Indians decisively walloped Minnesota 17 to 0, and the Gophers clearly outplayed Chicago, although the final score was but 4 to 2. Michigan probably does not take so much satisfaction in claiming the championship of the West as it does in seeing the aspirations of Minnesota and Chicago hopelessly confounded."

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Fritzi Scheff in "Mlle. Modiste."

Following the engagement of Dockstader's Minstrels at the National Theater, Washington players again have an opportunity to see that volatile prima donna, Fritzi Scheff, in the comic opera in which she has made one of the greatest successes of her entire career. "Mlle. Modiste," by Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom.

Harry Woodruff in "Brown of Harvard."

"Brown of Harvard," the college play which in New York and Chicago more than duplicated the success of "The College Widow" and "Strongheart," is the offering at the Belasco theater next week. The production is remarkably complete in detail, and characteristic in atmosphere, facts due largely to Henry Miller's skill in stage management.

Digby Bell in "The Education of Mr. Pipp."

Digby Bell will play a return engagement in Augustus Thomas' successful comedy "The Education of Mr. Pipp," at the Columbia Theater next week. Mr. Bell's appearance here last season as Mr. Pipp was one of the distinctive triumphs of the year, and his return now will no doubt be warmly welcomed by local theater-goers.

Emil Hoch and Company.

Next week the Chase bill will offer Emil Hoch and company in the new farcical comedy, "Love's Young Dream;" Mlle. Ora Cecil, "The Leopard Queen," with her troupe of performing leopards, panthers, and cougars, and other strong features.

Kathryn Purnell in "Sapho."

A new production of "Sapho" will be presented at the Majestic Theater, week of December 10th, by Kathryn Purnell and her company of twenty people. Miss Purnell, though young in years, has attained a high place on the American stage.

"Bedford's Hope."

"Bedford's Hope" will be the offering at the Academy for the week commencing Monday, December 10, and it is expected that big crowds will congregate nightly to witness what can safely be said to be the most spirited race scene ever devised to amuse an audience.

Princeton will lose the services of Capt. Dillon, guard, and Cooney and Herring, tackles for 1907.

A new production of "Sapho" will be presented at the Majestic Theater, week of December 10th, by Kathryn Purnell and her company of twenty people. Miss Purnell, though young in years, has attained a high place on the American stage.

"Bedford's Hope."

"Bedford's Hope" will be the offering at the Academy for the week commencing Monday, December 10, and it is expected that big crowds will congregate nightly to witness what can safely be said to be the most spirited race scene ever devised to amuse an audience.

Princeton will lose the services of Capt. Dillon, guard, and Cooney and Herring, tackles for 1907.

The Game.

While the game last Thursday has by this time become an old story and we, perhaps, shall not be able to say anything new, yet a few remarks may not be out of place.

The result was contrary to what we all expected. We believed the team was capable of winning the game, and that, now, after the contest, we still believe that the team was capable of winning, makes it the more disappointing. There is not the difference that the scores would indicate. The team simply had one of those unfortunate days that will come to the best of teams, when it seems that, try as it will, it can not strike the gait that it knows it is capable of going. Had the team played the game it did against Virginia it would easily have won.

Nothing but the highest praise can be said of the individuals of the team. They played the hardest game of their lives and threw themselves against the rushes of Georgetown with an abandon that on any other day would have resulted differently, but all their efforts seemed to go wrong. That the team did not become disheartened and let up when everything seemed against them is most encouraging for the future, as showing that the players are becoming filled with the spirit that makes a winning team even against odds. On the contrary the playing of the team was stronger toward the last than at any other time; there was no sign of a let-up or exhaustion. Great credit is due McDermott for the new spirit he infused into the men, and the capable manner in which he ran the team with the score against us.

We say frankly that we are not in sympathy with any criticism that would, from no other evidence than the game, charge any one with a failure to do his best. While that might not have been done which might seem to some could have been done, yet in the absence of anything to the contrary it should be believed that an honest effort was made, and that every man did his best.

If we are made of the stuff that has been shown on more than one occasion, we will, from this defeat, gather renewed and an irresistible determination that we will profit by the lesson, and resolve that we will show that we are worthy of him whose name we bear, who in that long period of defeats and battling against great odds and in the darkest hours, would not be cast down but held on with dogged determination that finally led him to victory. Let there be no other thought than that we can and will win next year.

Association of Class Presidents.

The class presidents are late in organizing this year. This Association has been a very strong factor in University affairs in previous years, having put on foot several University enterprises. Since the classes have elected their presidents a meeting for organization should be called. It is suggested that the proper officer to call such a meeting is the secretary of last year's Association.

At the criticism given by Professor Ash, of the Doric Order, just completed by the first-year class, Mr. Greenberg was given first mention, Mr. Buckingham, second mention, and Mr. Knowles, honorable mention.

Fraternities.

All fraternities are requested to send in for publication a list of their members, classing them as old men, new men, and transfers.

Columbian College.

We still have "Silence" in the Library. It is tacked firmly to the wall.

The Chi Omegas attended the game Thanksgiving Day in a body.

The lunches give by the Chi Omegas have been features in the social life of the College. On Monday, November 26th, a number of visiting members were entertained at the Sorority's apartments in the Farragut.

Owing to the conflict of University dates the Dramatic Club has been obliged to postpone its first appearance until January 10, 1907. At that time the club will present a dramatization of the Cricket on the Hearth at the National Rifles Armory.

Tasteful decorations and superlative music combined to make the Sophomore dance an event long to be remembered in the social life of the college. The place was the Normandie, the time Wednesday, November 28th, and the large attendance was evidence of the reputation of the class of 1909 for dances of quality. Cozy corners, draped with white and gold, the class colors, added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. President and Mrs. Needham, and Dr. Hodgkins were the guests of the class.

The committee in charge were Messrs. Call, Lamb and Bacon, and Misses Ettinger and Besselievre.

At a meeting of the Junior Club Friday evening, at the home of Miss Barbour, definite arrangements were made for the permanent organization of the club and a committee was appointed to select a suitable name. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr. Van Vleck; Vice-President, Miss Swartwout; Secretary, Miss Barbour, and Treasurer, Mr. Seiler. After a few minor items of business the members gave themselves up to the enjoyment of the occasion and merriment continued until a late hour. Mr. Curl and Miss Harrington were guests of the Club.

As has been the custom for several years, the Architectural Club will give a series of lectures extending through the school year, and on subjects pertaining to architecture and archaeology, which will be given by prominent architects and archaeologists of the city. The first lecture will be given early in December, and will be held in the Architectural Building, 729 Fifteenth Street.

Virginia has joined an Oratorical Association composed of Ohio Wesleyan, Cornell, Columbia, Chicago, Yale, and Princeton.

Personal.

Mr. Clarence Whitmore, who graduated last year with an A. B. from this University, led the Chapel exercises last Monday morning. Mr. Whitmore is making excellent progress in his work at the Theological Seminary and when he graduates will be one of the leading ministers of the country.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Head Professor of Agricultural Chemistry, has started his experimental work demonstrating the harmful effect of sulphites used as preservatives in food. In order to make a thorough investigation of this subject Dr. Wiley has obtained the service of six young men, who have promised to eat what he gives them. Dr. Wiley will keep a close watch of these gentlemen so that his conclusions will be very accurate.

Sulphites are used very extensively as a food preservative, especially in candies and meat. It is found more frequently in Hamburg steak, as it gives this variety of meat a very rich red color. It is owing to its bleaching effect that it is used in candies. We are sure that Dr. Wiley will make some discoveries that will be beneficial to the human race.

Dr. Wiley started his college education at Hanover College. After graduating, he went to Harvard, where he won his Ph.D. and LL.D. Since then Dr. Wiley has been State Chemist of Indiana, and Professor of Chemistry at Purdue University. In 1883 he was appointed Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry and in 1895 received his appointment as Head Professor of Agricultural Chemistry in this University.

Dr. Wiley has an international reputation as a chemist and a scientific writer, and is an authority on any scientific question pertaining to chemistry.

The University is pleased to learn that one of its alumni was recently elected president of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity which has just adjourned after a week's session in this city. He is Mr. John H. Dewitt, a graduate from the Law Department in '99. Mr. Dewitt is practicing law in Nashville, Tennessee, where he is regarded as one of the most brilliant and promising young lawyers of the middle section of that State, and already has a large practice. He is very prominent in the politics of the city.

Dean Vance spent Thanksgiving shooting wild turkeys in old Virginia. It is reported that he bagged one and that entirely too close to a farmer's barn to be bona fide wild.

Professor Mitchell Carroll spent the holidays in Wisconsin and Iowa, assisting in the organization of societies of the Archaeological Institute of America.

Harriet Richardson, Ph. D., 1903, has just published in the Proc. U. S. National Museum "Descriptions of New Isopod Crustaceans of the Family Sphaeromidae," and in Bull. Mus. d'Histoire nat. "Sur les Isopodes de l'expédition Française Antarctique."

The Sophomore Dance.

On the night of September 28th the class of 1909 gave a beautiful dance at the Normandie, 1405 I Street. The decorations of the ball room and parlor were in yellow and white, the class colors. The dance was well attended, for there were about seventy couples present. All Freshmen who attended were presented with bright green programs, and it is to be hoped that they appreciated that honor; and they, together with all the others present, voted the dance a great success.

Junior Medical.

Fifteen members of the class of '08 occupied a block in the first balcony of the Belasco Theater on Thanksgiving night.

At the regular meeting of the Juniors on the first Saturday night in December, Mr. A. J. Browning read a paper on "Vaccination in Typhoid." The paper was a valuable contribution to this interesting subject.

After a month's confinement in the hospital by an attack of typhoid fever, Mr. R. D. Wolf is now out again but will spend a few weeks at his home in Hagerstown, Md., before resuming his duties as orderly at the hospital and his work with the class of '08 in the University.

H. S. Pyne, Jr., son of Mr. H. S. Pyne, of the class of '08, arrived in Washington Tuesday morning from his home in Utah. He has secured an appointment as page in the House of Representatives.

Architecture.

The regular monthly meeting of the Architectural Club was held on Monday evening, November 26th. The matter of electing a Massier was the most important business before the meeting. It was decided by a unanimous vote not to elect anyone to this office, and it was with satisfaction that the matter was decided, as it has been a question of considerable discussion by some of the members.

obtained possession of the ball near the center of the field but it was lost on an attempted quarterback kick. On the second trial Kerr again ran through our entire team like a greased pig and scored another touchdown. Bocock kicked another goal. Georgetown 16, G. W. 0.

After the kickoff, the Blue and Gray captain tried a drop kick from the twenty yard line but missed by a good margin. On the punt out O'Boyle ran forty yards for a touchdown, but it was not allowed, on account of holding in the line.

From this time on our team showed the first and only flash of their real playing ability. Getting the ball near the center of the field, MacDermott, who had taken Steenerson's place at quarter back, smashed Georgetown's line with heavy tackle bucks and straight plays and within three minutes Lacarioni was shoved over for a score. Steenerson kicked goal. Score, Georgetown 16, G. W. 6.

Georgetown kicked to us, and the march started again, but did not last as Georgetown soon held and started back in the opposite direction. Time was called at this point.

The Team.

B. A. Beard played left half-back throughout the entire season. Age 24. Weight 165. Beard played a hard consistent game and improved a great deal in every respect under Crowell's tutelage. Will be back next year and eligible for the team.

A. S. Boarman played in every game at center and his passing was always reliable. Distinguished himself particularly at Swarthmore by his running down on punts. Age 22. Weight, 175. Alias, "Papa's boy," or "Maxwell the second." Will be back next year.

Gibson. The biggest man on the team. Age 22. Weight 205. "Gibbie" played tackle and guard and distinguished himself at both positions. Available next season.

J. M. Gunning played right end in every game. Very fast getting down under punts and a hard worker at all times. Age 22. Weight 160. Out for the team next season.

"Alec" Lacarioni, one of our new men, played full back regularly after the Gallaudet game. Age 23, Weight 168. A hard worker and a team worker. Hits the line hard and plays a fine defensive back. Should make good again next year.

Steve Lorando played regularly at left end, and distinguished himself particularly in the Virginia game. A hard man to get past on an end run. Age 21. Weight 148. Doubtful for next year.

"Blondy" Moore played left guard in the great majority of the games. Starred at Swarthmore. Light (weight about 165) but nervy. Will be available next year.

Charlie Morriss played tackle in the Virginia and Georgetown games. Age 28. Weight 175. A strong man on both offensive and defensive. Doubtful for next year.

Benj. Steenerson, captain for a second time this year. Played at quarter back and end. The surest tackler on the team. Not available next year. Age 24. Weight 165.

Ed. Sutton, another of our new men, played right half. A hard man to tackle when he gets started, and who would improve a great deal with another year of Crowell's coaching.

George Vierra played at right guard in a majority of the games. Age 21. Weight 173. A hard worker, who can be counted on next season.

"Big man" Sommers, one of the best tackles around this section for his weight. Starred in all games except Georgetown, when he was not at his best. Age 26. Weight 175. Available next year.

"Subs and Scrubs."

George Berryman played at guard in several games, and made a strong bid for the team. Will be back next year.

Jack Brookes, captain of the scrubs. Played tackle in Western Maryland game. Doubtful for next season.

Reginald Gable, played end in Swarthmore game. Available next year.

J. Babcock, played full back in four games. Next year will be his last.

W. Babcock played tackle against Baltimore Medical. Can be used next season.

J. Field played half back against Baltimore Medical, doubtful.

"Little man" Harralson, guard in Gallaudet game.

Frank Gillespie, alias Williams, says he will be back next year and signs it in a bold hand.

"Angel face" Stevenson, as he was dubbed by the waitress at the training table, played end in Lehigh game. Will continue his law course.

L. W. Whiting will be back next year.

E. C. Wright, played guard in Baltimore Medical and Georgetown games. Doubtful for next year.

W. E. Waters held down a tackle position on the scrubs. Doubtful.

P. M. Kilgour played guard in Virginia and Baltimore Medical games. Doubtful for next year.

Ruiz, half back on scrubs. Will be available next year.

McDermott played quarter back in Gallaudet, Lehigh and Georgetown games. Would probably have made a regular berth for himself on the team if he had stayed out consistently.

Journalism in College.

When asked as to what he thought of college journalism, Richard Harding Davis, the world's greatest war correspondent and one of the most prominent literary men of the day, said:

"As a preparation for either journalism or literary work for a profession, I consider the experience gained by a college man engaged in journalistic work paramount. These professions are not the only ones which derive benefits from collegiate journalism. It fits one for nearly any profession where literary ability is required or desirable.

"I should divide this general subject into two co-ordinate parts—actual work on genuine university publications and work done for newspapers with mercenary ends in view. When I was in college, it was considered as a joke for a man to attempt journalism. It is now a most serious matter, for aside from the influence of Campus life, I cite the cases of such authors mold the sentiment of the undergraduates than any other agent known. They are read by nearly every member of the university and consequently exert great influence. No newspaper work like that on a college paper can train a man to be accurate in his stories; and above all things, accuracy must be maintained for the success of a paper.

"As examples of what newspaper work in college can do in after life, I cite the cases of such authors as Gouveneur Morris, Jesse Lynch Williams, George Ade, Owen Wister and Winston Churchill. I attribute their early and brilliant start in a literary career to what they did along this line in college:

"When I was in college Gouveneur Morris, a Yale man, read to me his first contribution to college journalism. I have carefully watched his progress and at the present day consider him one of the best writers in America; his diction is almost perfect and his style is unimpeachable.

"The advantages derived from both branches of journalism at college are about equal and at the same time inestimable. The work teaches a man to be, first of all, observing. Such a gift, or cultivated habit, is invaluable to the man of to-day, be his business what it may. It teaches him how to write and how to express himself. It throws him on his own resources and gives play to his imagination and originality. The first money I ever received for literary work was $1.15 which the Evening Post paid me for a description of a cane rush while I was at Lehigh. Journalism brings one in contact with many prominent men, thereby giving one a chance to see how things should be done. My advice, gathered from my personal experience, to every college man, is to go into journalism at once."

Inter-Society Debate.

The team to represent the Columbian Debating Society in the Inter-Society Debate on December 21st, with the Needham, will be selected Friday night. The six honor men will debate the question for the Inter-Society debate, and three will be chosen to constitute the team. The Needham team has been chosen.

Cincinnati Trials.

The second trials for the Cincinnati debate will be held December 8th. Each of the fourteen men chosen in the first preliminaries will be allowed twelve minutes.

Kappa Alpha Dance.

The Kappa Alpha fraternity, which has the reputation of giving some of the most successful receptions among the fraternities, gave a most delightful dance at its house last Saturday night. Unusually good music was rendered by the band and refreshments were served. Besides the fraternity members there were present Misses Griffin, Seaton and Robertson from Chevy Chase College; Beeler, Vorhees, Thomas, Hanlen, and Matchem of Fairmont; Simpson, Fisher, Epler, Field, and Leigh from the city. Messrs. Crozier of Baltimore and Cull of the city, alumni were present and Moore of the University.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity gave an enjoyable dance at its house on last Saturday night.

Theta Delta Chi.

The Chi Deuteron charge of Theta Delta Chi held its annual initiation banquet at The Raleigh Saturday, December 1st. The guests of honor were the Rev. Geo. H. Spencer, President of the Fraternity, and Dr. Rudolf Tombo, Registrar of Columbia University, ex-President of the Fraternity. Other speakers were Senor Gonzales de Quesada, Rev. J. MacBride Sterrett, Rev. Dr. Wightman, Rev. Dr. Smith, ex-President Trinity College, Walter M. Gilbert and Clyde Garrett.

Gilbert W. Kelly acted as toastmaster.

The third of the Karmata Travelogues, Friday afternoon, December 7th, at 4:30, at the Columbia Theater, will be Japan. This country has suddenly become a world power, and all that relates to her is of peculiar interest at this time. The life and customs of the country are brought out with striking realism in these motion pictures.

It is greatly to be feared that Occidental Commercialism, which is taking such rapid hold upon Japan, will soon destroy much that is beautiful in the simple life, which is now of such great interest to the tourist.

Among the views are Japanese farming scenes, their tea-houses, the Great Temple Procession at Nikko, and a dangerous ride in a frail native sampan down wild and narrow rapids. The management has arranged a special half-rate students' ticket which can be secured in the office of the University Hall.

Gifts amounting to $122,361 have been received by the University of Chicago since September 1st.

HELP IN PREPARING COMPOSITIONS, DEBATES, ORATIONS, SPECIAL PAPERS, ETC.

STUDENTS, Writers, Speakers, Artists, Lecturers, Committees, and others, obtain invaluable assistance through consulting this vast current-topics "Library," which covers all subjects. We have millions of articles, cuttings and illustrations, that are added to daily, from the newspapers, books, reports and periodicals of the world, forming the only up-to-date reference library of its kind in existence. We loan pictures or clippings to reliable parties who give satisfactory references, or supply articles or digests that are made by experts. Write us giving full detailed particulars as to just what you want, and we will quote prices.
